

PREPARED FOR SERVICEFORM · SALES

Your free analysis, done before the first call.

A ready-made "maksuton analyysi" for one prospect, Bo LKV. It covers what their site is missing, what Mira would add on their own pages, and a message you can send this week.

SUMMARY

You already sell with analyses. This one is ready before they ask.

Serviceform's main calls to action invite visitors to book a free analysis: "we go through your website, social and automation, and show where you're leaving money on the table." That works well for people who come to you. This pack does the same work in advance, for a company you would like to reach.

The sample prospect is Bo LKV, one of Finland's fastest-growing real estate agencies:

- 3,600+ properties sold in 2024
- 200+ professionals and 16 offices, including Lapland and Marbella
- 2,426 properties for sale on bo.fi

Real estate is one of your five industry pages, and your RE/MAX story ("a chatbot on every property page, 2x leads") shows exactly what Mira can do here.

The finding is easy to check. Bo markets "English-speaking professionals", yet the listing pages on bo.fi/en are in Finnish: the description, the costs and the price breakdown. Bo even says that its Property Watch is "currently only available in Finnish". There is no chat. Every question goes to one agent's phone, email or form. Mira solves all three at once: it answers in the buyer's language around the clock and books the viewing straight into the agent's calendar.

What's inside

- Bo today: the facts, and why they're a good prospect now
- The audit: three findings, a scorecard and a map of buyer questions
- Concept page, as a separate long PDF: bo.fi exactly as it looks today, with Mira on a real listing
- Value model (illustrative) and a 30-day pilot
- A message ready to send, in Finnish

I make packs like this at Knock. The process is semi-automated: I set the strategy and check every detail by hand. I've worked in this market before, so I know how these first conversations go. If this is useful, I'd like to show you in 20 minutes how it would work across a list of your target accounts.

1

English pages, Finnish content

On bo.fi/en/realty/bk4324506 the description, "Huoneisto", "Asumiskustannukset" and "Hinta" are all in Finnish. An English-speaking buyer can see the price, but not the maintenance charge or what's included.

Valmiiksi vuokrattu asunto hyvällä sijainnilla.

Tässä valoisassa kolmiossa Hyvinkäällä on oma sauna ja aurinkoinen lasitettu parveke.

Valkoinen keittiö on remontoitu edellisen omistajan aikana. Sen päätyikkunasta avautuu vehreä näkymä puiden latvoihin. Lasitettu parveke, oma sauna, tilavat huoneet.

Vuonna 1980 valmistuneessa taloyhtiössä on tehty viime vuosina monenlaista kunnostusta. Kaikkiin huoneistoihin on vedetty valokuitu. Taloyhtiö on ylimääräisessä yhtiökokouksessa hyväksynyt tarjouksen taloyhtiön rakennusoikeuden myynnistä ulkopuoliselle toimijalle.

Asunto on tällä hetkellä vuokrattu, joten se sopii myös sijoituskohteeksi.

No chat, so every question goes to one agent

Each listing offers the agent's phone, email, calendar and a contact form. With 2,426 listings and 200+ professionals, that's roughly a dozen listings per person, all answering the same questions (costs, renovations, availability) one at a time.

3

"Currently only available in Finnish"

Bo Property Watch, the email service that brings buyers back, says so on the English buying page. Non-Finnish buyers need an agent to set it up.

PROPERTY WATCH HELPS YOU FIND THE PERFECT HOME

With Bo Property Watch, you'll receive email updates on the newest properties that match your criteria. The watch handles the search for you, making the process of finding your perfect home easier and more convenient. Currently this service is available in Finnish, but if you're not familiar with the language, our team can assist by setting up the property watch for you and guiding you through the process.

THE FINDING

The answers are already on the page. They're just in Finnish, and they wait for office hours.

What a buyer asks about one listing, and where the answer already sits on bo.fi. Mira learns this data, so it can answer any listing in any language without extra work from the agent.

BUYER ASKS (ANY LANGUAGE)	WHERE THE ANSWER IS TODAY	EXAMPLE: PARANTOLANKATU 7-9	MIRA
What are the monthly costs?	"Asumiskustannukset" (Finnish)	€647.59/month + water €27/person	Answers
Is it vacant? When can I move in?	"Muita tietoja → Vapautuu"	Rented out, €850/month	Answers
What has been renovated?	"Tehdyt korjaukset" (Finnish)	Fibre 2024, locks and smoke alarms 2025...	Answers
Any big renovations coming?	"Ks. lisätietoa PTS:stä"	In the maintenance plan	Hands to agent
What's the debt-free price vs. the selling price?	"Hinta" (Finnish)	€93,000 / €89,899.22	Answers
Is there a sauna? Which floor?	"Huoneisto" (Finnish)	Own sauna, floor 1 of 4	Answers
Can I see it this weekend?	Agent's calendar link	Agent's free times	Books
Can you find me something similar?	Property Watch (Finnish only)	n/a	Collects criteria
What's my own home worth?	8-field valuation form	n/a	Books a valuation

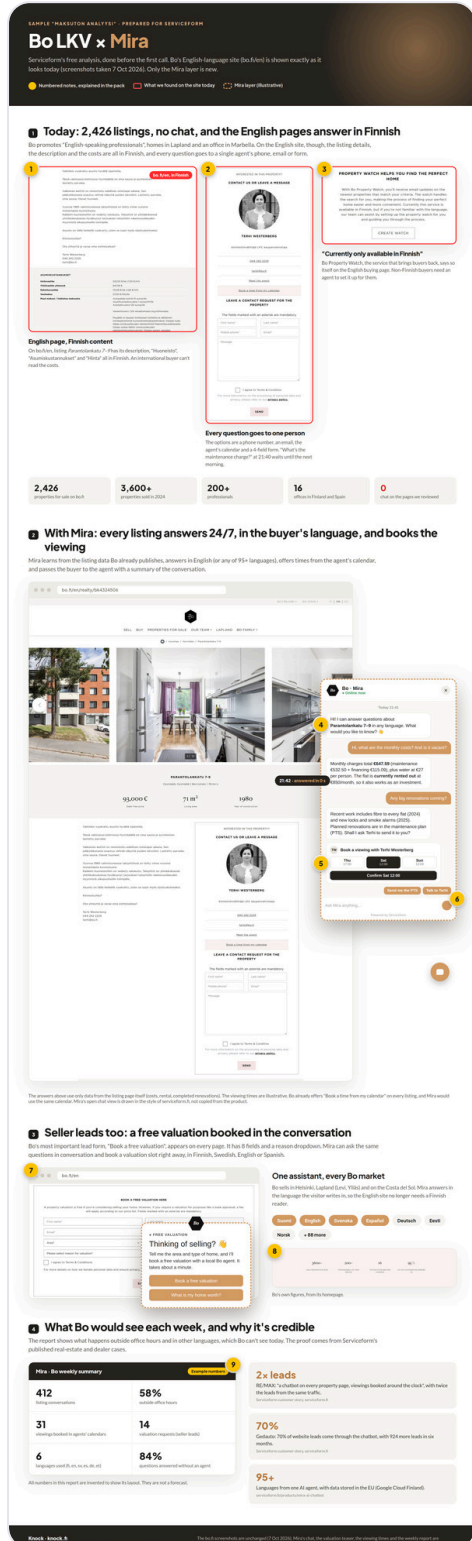

All listing data is from bo.fi/en/realty/bk4324506, 7 Oct 2026. "Mira" shows the intended behaviour, based on serviceform.fi's description (it learns from content, answers, books and hands over to a person). Confirm the setup with the Serviceform team.

The pitch in one line: "Your listings already have the answers. Mira says them in every language, at 21:40, and books the viewing."

Agents still own every deal. Mira only removes the waiting.

The concept page is a separate long PDF. It shows bo.fi exactly as it looks today, with the Mira layer added in tan dashed lines. Each yellow number on it matches a note below.

1

English page, Finnish content

The description, costs and price breakdown on bo.fi/en are in Finnish.

2

One agent per question

Phone, email, calendar and a form. Nothing answers instantly.

3

Property Watch: Finnish only

Bo's own wording on the English buying page.

4

Mira answers from the listing

Costs, rental status and renovations in English at 21:41, using only data already on the page. ILLUSTRATIVE UI

5

Books the viewing

Into the agent's calendar, which Bo already offers on every listing.

6

Hands over to the agent

"Talk to Terhi" passes the whole conversation along, so the agent starts warm.

7

Seller leads in conversation

The 8-field valuation form becomes a one-minute chat that ends in a booked valuation.

8

Every Bo market, one assistant

Finnish, English, Swedish and Spanish for Helsinki, Lapland and the Costa del Sol, and 95+ languages in total.

9

Weekly report and proof

After-hours activity Bo can't see today, alongside the RE/MAX and Gedauto results. EXAMPLE NUMBERS

Concept page, top part (scaled down).

A handful of extra sales a year covers it many times over

These are deliberately cautious assumptions, and Bo can swap in its own numbers. The revenue per sale is a rough average: Bo's total 2025 revenue divided by the sales it reported for 2024.

The maths

ASSUMPTIONS

Extra viewings booked by Mira, per office every 2 weeks 1

Extra viewings per year (16 offices × 26) 416

Share of viewings that lead to a sale 1 in 25

Extra sales per year ≈ 17

Average revenue per sale (€25.4M ÷ 3,600) ≈ €7,000

Extra revenue per year ≈ €116,000

Viewing volume and conversion are assumptions, not data. Seller leads from the valuation chat aren't counted here, though each new listing brings commission of its own.

The RE/MAX benchmark: 2× leads from the same traffic.

Our model assumes a small fraction of that. Bo also gets something that's hard to price: an English site that actually works in English.

What Bo's management cares about

- No more questions waiting overnight, without longer hours for agents
- International buyers served from day one
- More valuations, which means more listings
- EU data storage and GDPR by default (Google Cloud Finland)

30-day pilot, built by the Serviceform team

WEEK 1

Set up

- Mira learns the listings, prices and service pages
- Connect agents' calendars
- Agree handover rules

WEEKS 2–3

Go live

- Start with 2–3 offices, for example Helsinki, Levi and Marbella
- Listing pages and the valuation chat
- FI, EN, SV and ES

WEEK 4

Review

- Conversations outside office hours
- Viewings and valuations booked
- Decide on a rollout to all 16 offices

The message to Bo

Aihe: bo.fi/en vastaa suomeksi – ja vasta aamulla

Hei [Nimi],

Kävin läpi Bon englanninkielisiä sivuja. Kohteet ja kuvat ovat upeita, mutta kohdesivujen kuvaus, asumiskustannukset ja hintatiedot ovat suomeksi, ja Property Watch on omien sanojenne mukaan "currently only available in Finnish". Kaikki kysymykset menevät välittäjän puhelimeen, sähköpostiin tai lomakkeelle.

Teimme valmiin esimerkin kohteesta Parantolankatu 7–9. Siinä tekoälyagenttimme Mira vastaa ostajalle englanniksi klo 21.41 kohteen omilla tiedoilla ja varaa näytön suoraan välittäjän kalenteriin. RE/MAXilla vastaava ratkaisu kaksinkertaisti liidit samasta liikenteestä.

Katsotaanko 20 minuutissa? Ensi viikon tiistai tai torstai sopisi minulle.

[Nimi], Serviceform

To confirm before sending

Does the Finnish site (bo.fi) have a chat? Who owns digital at Bo (the marketing lead or CEO Saara Murtovaara)? Can Mira read Bo's listing feed directly? Which calendar system do the agents use?

One analysis is a sample. Twenty is a pipeline.

Pick 10–20 target companies across your five industries: online stores, real estate, car dealers, education and construction. For each one I'll research the company, find the gap, build the concept on their real site and write the message. Your team reviews it and sends it.

What you get per prospect

- Research and an audit with sharp findings
- A question map from their own pages
- A concept page with Mira on their real site
- A value model and a pilot outline
- A message ready to send
